AIR FREIGHT >

Speedy and reliable logistics operations guaranteed with our range of air freight options...

Developments in transport technology have greatly enhanced global connectivity, but have thrown up several logistical challenges, such as stringent rules and endless paperwork. Our vast network of international agencies, partners and hubs enables us to create and control international logistical chains using air transport across regular and exceptional flows, ensuring speedy delivery and zero operational delays. The inherent benefits of air transport such as reliability, transparency and convenience are transferred to our customers, with air freight being the preferred medium for projects which have tight deadlines, as well as situations where there is an urgent need for material.

Air freight is a sphere that throws up new obstacles and challenges with each passing day. Our versatile workforce and extensive network of contacts and resources enable us to meet these challenges head on and help in the set up and maintenance of logistical structures. We make use of aircrafts ranging from commercial carriers to specialized cargo planes to ensure flawless global connectivity, regardless of the size and nature of the shipment.

ROAD FREIGHT >

Timely delivery through road freight guaranteed...

We possess both the skills as well as the resources to effectively transport material over land. We have access to trucks, multi axle and heavy haul equipment, and our highly skilled staff ensures that any shipment, regardless of the physical size and logistical complexities involved, is transported to the destination safe and sound. Special efforts are taken to ensure compliance with industry norms and standards, including obtaining special permits and personally escorting the shipment. The nature of shipment is kept in mind while deciding the optimum route, ensuring that bad quality roads and other factors do not affect the integrity of the material being transported.

Our global team keeps the team transporting the shipment constantly updated on all relevant developments, enabling them to identify and react to potential threats such as bad weather, traffic jams etc. This ensures that shipments are always on the quickest and most practical route, and greatly enhances quality of service. Since our resources are mostly non-asset based, complexities in the logistical process are kept to a minimum and allow for greater flexibility when adapting to sudden client requests and other situations.

OCEAN FREIGHT >

Safe movement of vast volumes of material through our ocean freight services...

With our workforce possessing years of experience in the field of supply chain management, URBX Worldwide has considerable expertise in the fields of logistics, customs formalities and tax representation. We also boast of strong ties with several eminent shipping companies, enabling us to operate as an NVOCC (Non-Vessel Operated Common Carrier) operator. We leverage our vast network of resources and contacts to deliver tailor-made ocean freight solutions, minimizing wastage of time and effort.

Our vast experience in this sphere allows us to move large volumes with utmost efficiency. Our services go beyond normal material transport and branch out into brokering safe storage at ports, ensuring flexible scheduling of shipments and detailed shipment tracking. These enable customers to structure their logistical frameworks down to the finest detail. Our skilled staff also takes it upon themselves to educate customers on the various elements of their supply chain infrastructure and ensure that these frameworks have an element of flexibility, thus allowing tinkering and adjustments if the customer deems it necessary.

COASTAL FREIGHT >

Feasible and environmentally friendly logistical solutions

The economic and environmental advantages of coastal shipping were identified by us very early on and maintaining a very strong and efficient presence at all the major ports of the country has enabled us to offer impeccable logistical support to all our customers. Expanding this stream of our operations has greatly limited our carbon footprint, and this added versatility is paramount to ensuring continued customer delight. The significantly lower cost of coastal freight systems makes it a very attractive option for clients with all magnitudes of logistical requirements.

Coastal freight also eases up the load on other freight options such as road and rail freight, with this decongestion leading to large scale savings of time and money. The fact that several industrial hubs are in close proximity to ports makes coastal freight an indispensable artery of several multi-modal logistical frameworks. Having a reliable and robust catalogue of coastal freight options has greatly enhanced our ability to move shipments of varying complexity across large distances within fixed timelines. The already extensive supporting infrastructure present at major ports give us a wide array of options when it comes to structuring a supply chain management system.

CUSTOMS CLEARANCE >

Compliance with international regulations assured...

Along with conventional transport solutions, we also provide customs brokerage services, with our global customs network facilitating the movement of goods across borders, regardless of the location. Our professional licensed customs brokers work tirelessly to ensure that shipments are compliant with even the most stringent customs policies, thereby eliminating all chances of delays and penalties.

Modern rules have made it mandatory to have an established business or a legal entity in the source or destination country for all import and export operations. URBX Worldwide can assume this role for our customers, by taking full responsibility of the import/export process till the shipment is delivered. Our role as a logistics expert sees us recognized as an official part of the shipment transaction. We take great efforts to fully understand the complexities and statutes specific to the countries we are dealing with, ensuring full legal compliance and hassle-free delivery.

DISTRIBUTION & WAREHOUSING >

Efficient and optimized storage and delivery networks...

We recognize that each shipment comes with a different set of complexities and storage needs, depending on the contents. We possess a wide network of business associates with access to dry and temperature-controlled spaces and ancillary services, ensuring that perishable and fragile materials aren't damaged in transit.

Our supply chain infrastructure is designed to be flexible and easily modifiable, keeping in mind the constantly changing and evolving global market. Our non-asset management team is tasked with understanding customer needs and preferences down to the minutest detail and chalking out warehousing and distribution plans to minimize logistical expenses and challenges. We also advise our customers on the best way to structure import/ export and domestic distribution processes. Our catalogue of services include transportation, warehousing, inventory control, material handling and order administration.

3PL SERVICES >

End to end ownership of logistics operations...

By completely taking over supply chain management and logistics as a third party, URBX Worldwide completely takes away the tedious tasks of material procurement and transport from the manufacturers, enabling them to focus on adding to and improving their existing service portfolio. Our industry know-how and expertise enable you to fine tune your supply chain infrastructure and distribution channels to minimize expenditure and ensure optimum utilization of assets and capital.

From pick up of material, to deciding on a proper route, and choosing the medium of transport, our team of experienced professionals leverages the vast amount of data and resources at our disposal to advise customers on a practical logistical solution. Once clients are convinced of the merits of the proposed solution, all subsequent steps, including ensuring proper documentation, acquiring all necessary permits as well as taking adequate steps to ensure integrity of the shipment are all handled by our team. There is complete transparency in each step of the process, and incorporation of client feedback into the logistical framework is also given due importance.

PROJECT LOGISTICS >

Domain expertise and technical proficiency combined...

We go to great lengths to understand the project requirements of our customers, with budgetary restrictions and all ambient factors taken into consideration before the set up of the supply chain infrastructure. We are adept at moving shipments of any size and complexity regardless of the geographical challenges, with our wide network of ocean, air and land freight options as well as considerable domain expertise enabling customers to successfully complete projects with zero delay. Our reputation for professionalism and reliability is our pride, and each customer of URBX is serviced with their delight and comfort the primary goal.

Transporting heavy shipments and material across any mode of transport requires immense technical know-how, detailed planning and precise execution. We aim to go beyond conventional completion of tasks and provide several value-added services such as safe packaging, warehousing, customs negotiation and even assist in installation of the moved material. Our project logistics department is devoted to coordinating transport operations from start to finish, with documentation, legalities and permissions all taken care of.

SYSTEMS & TECHNOLOGIES >

Expand Your Shipping Choices with Air Freight Couriers...

Our customers have unfettered access to our entire catalogue of supply chain related processes and technologies. The increasingly competitive marketplace has reduced the margin for error and inefficiency, necessitating constant innovation and fine-tuning of the supply chain infrastructure. We leverage technologies such as RFID chips and bar code scanners, computerized inventory software and advanced data management tools to track shipments as ensure that customers are constantly informed of the status of their shipment.

There are now tools and systems in place to augment and enhance the efficiency of each step of the supply chain management process. Even latest advancements such as data analytics and risk management have become part of the business intelligence apparatus of the logistics industry. Essential tasks such as order management, reporting and financial settlements can be streamlined and automated to a great extent. Data and the insights gleaned from it help make informed decisions with regard to choosing optimum routes for material transport, as well as the ideal combination of freight options.
